LOCAL MATTERS.

To Correspondents. We are continually receiving communications on rolitical and other matters from persons who do not attach their preper names to the articles sent and we take this occasion of repeating that nothing can be published in THE DAILY NEWS without being indersed by some responsible individual.

VOOLER'S, in Market street, is the great Central News Depot, where the latest papers, magazines, fashion books, etc., etc., can always be had. He leas our thanks this morning for a late copy of the N. Y. Staatz Zeitung.

DELACEY, of the Mills House News Stand, has, as is his usual custom, laid upon our table all of the latest and most interesting New York papers. We are glad to hear that DeLacer's stand is a success, and hope that his shadow may never grow IMMIGRATION .- A public meeting of the adopted citizens and foreigners of Charleston, will be held at eight o'clock on Tuesday evening next, the 16th inst., at the Hail C' the German Bruderliche Bund in King street, near Horlbeck's Alley. General JOHN A. WAGENER, the Commissioner, proposes to read his report to the meeting, on the inducements held out by this State to immigrants. We hope the meeting will be well attended, as the subject to be considered is one of vital interest to the State, and her future industriall prosperity.

ANNUAL PARADE OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT .- AS the 27th of April next will fall on Saturday, a particularly busy day with that portion of those citizens who compose our excellent Fire Department, the Board of Fire Masters have postponed the Annual Parade, which was to have taken place as usual at that time, to the following Tuesday, the 20th. As the different companies are making all necessary arrangements for an elegant display on the forthcoming occasion, we must agree that it is but right that every facility should be afforded which will enable them to come cut in full numbers, and in the best style. United States Circuit Court-Hon. Geo. S. BRYAN, Presiding .- A. D. WILLIAMS US. A. W. retail. TOCKHART. Case in assumsit. PORTER & CONNER for the plaintiffs, and A. G.

MAGRATH, Esq., for the defendant. Verdict for the plaintiff, $2,314.17. This was a suit on a foreign bill of exchange, raised as to the amount to be paid. The Judge decided that the value of pounds sterling should be decided by reducing them to the rate of $4.84 for gold, and then ascertain its value in greenbacks, by adding the premium.

The Petit Juries were adjourned over until Tuesday, as there would be no business for them until that day.

There being no further business for the Circuit Court, the following cases were taken up in the flowers, as is currently stated, then the coming month will be peculiarly favored in this respect, and there will be no lack of floral decorations for the May poles. The supposition that April is composed of sunshine and showers, rapidly chasing each other, is erroneous, for the god of day has been hardly able to assert his supremacy, and no sooner enlivens the earth with his presence, than his visage is obscured by the envious clouds. There is but one class of the community who do not grumble at the present watery visitation, and they willingly endure the damp discomfort, knowing that it is food for the young plants, and look forward to a bountiful harvest for the future. In a city the business men are seriously inconvenienced by these showers, and as few persons have a fondness for umbrelias, they are tempted to take the risk, and receive a comfortable drenching as a reward for their temerity. The dull leaden skies we now enjoy are not what have been usually ascribed to April, and we fear that the clerk of the weather is in a bad way, and needs reconstruction or a military bill before he will deign to smile upon District No. 2. Poets are fond of alluding to the thirsty earth drinking in these showers, but if old mother earth is not satiated, others are, and all who have any respect for their outward adornings are exceedingly disgusted when subjected to an involuntary shower bath.

THE BURNT DISTRICT in the southwestern part of the city has been completely monopolized by the cattle, and they nibble the grass that has sprung up on the ruins with as much delight as if they were genuine country cows, and had never seen bricks and mortar. The presence of these animals | ket will warrant. Merchants and others wishing to use at large in the city limits is a sad reminder that we live in a territory, and the indifference manifested by the ladies, when the ungainly brutes approach them, is a proof that they are prepared to accept the situation. Until the great fire, few persons were aware that there were so large a number of cows cloistered between brick walls, and | Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, their presence in the burnt district suggests the idea that if the cotton crop should fail, the planters can turn their attention to grazing, and derive citizen when I testify to the great benefits received by some profit from their land. There is no doubt | me from the use of your Stomach Bitters during the that with the city improvements the cows will last five years. Sojourning for a time in the oil regions, gradually disappear, and the places where they tion with dyspepsia, left me in a very weak condition were wont to chew the cud of meditation be again I was advised to try your Bitters, and, having procured covered with rows of houses. The picturesque a bottle, found that they worked like a charm upon me, appearance that is now presented of cattle de- eight pounds having been added to my weight in the serting the "moss-grown wood-path," and wandering amid ruined buildings, seeking a preca- fused into my system, so much so, that I have been inrious living, will be gone; the city ordinances will | duced to use them every summer since that time. At present they are the fore, much reduced,) although under the treatment of only inhabitants of the burnt district, and as long as they are discreet cows, and keep from the sidewalk, they are not molested; but this lis an enjoyment that will not be long granted them, there is a good time coming, when the territory will be annulled, and the free suffrage now allowed cows will be taken away.

BALL .- A ball will be given on the 22d instant, by the St. Patrick Benevolent Society, at the Hibernian Hall. Tickets to be obtained from the Committee mentioned in the avdertisament.

MERCANTILE AGENCY.—We had a visit yesterday from Mr. James L. Fonda, of Bradstreet's Mercantile Agency, New York. We learn from Mr. FONDA that it is his intention to establish a branch of Messrs. Bradstreet's house in this city, and we have little doubt but that he will be very successful. The war has wonderfully changed the condition of merchants as well as of those of other vocations, and many new ones have commenced business, so that it would seem to be a matter of absolute necessity for wholesale dealers to have some arrangement whereby they might know positively of the condition of those to whom they sell.

REFRESHMENT SALOON .- Parties who attend the postoffice and waste time in waiting for the mail delivery will be pleased to learn that a saloon has been opened at the corner of Hasel and Meeting streets, and ice cream, cakes and soda will be dispensed to the public. The popularity of a similar establishment last season is a sufficient guarantee to Messrs. Ogren & Withington, the proprietors of the corner stand, that they will not be disappointed in their expectations of success. The business men of East Bay have enjoyed a monopoly of these saloons, but the fraternity of Meeting and Hayne streets and the postoffice loungers will now have an opportunity of patronizing an establishment nearer home, and from a glance at the interior we can guarantee that their money will not be thrown away.

MERCHANT TAILORING.—Broad street has always been the great business centre of the city, where merchants most did congregate; but its popularity was mainly due to the varied nature of its stores. There is, perhaps, no street in the city that, in the compass of three blocks, embraces so many different establishments. Prominent among these s the store of Mr. A. S. HULL, merchant tailor. Mr. Hull is well known to the Charleston community as a merchant of many years' standing, and before the war had a large establishment in Mecting street. He is now located at No. 70 Broad street, and has, in addition to a large stock of cloths, cassimeres, &c., a fine assortment of military and naval goods, and trimmings. These he is prepared to make up in the most approved and orthodox styles. Mr. John T. Flynn, who has also had a long experience at the business, is associated with Mr. Hull, and their combined skill is clearly visible in the neat and substantial appearance of their work.

PALM SUNDAY .- The week before Easter has been called Holy or Passover Week, and Palm Sunday was commemorated as the anniversary of our Saviour's triumphant entry into Jerussiem when the people "took branches of palm trees and went forth to meet Him, crying Hosanna, &c." In the extreme desire manifested under the aucient religion to realize all the particulars of CHRIST'S passion it was a stomary for the priests to bless branches of some tree approximating to the palm, and distribute them among the people, who carried them in a joyous procession in memory of the Saviour's triumphal entry into the Holy City. When this ceremony was performed the branches were usually burnt, and the ashes laid aside to be sprinkled upon the heads of the congregation on the ensuing Ash Wednesday.

After the Reformation of 1536, HENRY VIII declared the carrying of palms on this day to be one of those ceremonies not to be contemned or dropped, and the custom was kept up by the clergy until the reign of EDWARD VI, when it was left to the voluntary observance of the people. It has continued to be observed in Europe to the present day, though not with the same pomp and ceremony that characterized it in the earlier history of the church. The ceremonies of Easter at Rome commence on Palm Sunday, and a large concourse of strangers annually visit the Eternal City to witness the rites of the church; the shops are all kept open, and concerts and other amusements are given with the exception of theatrical performances. The only external difference is in the churches, which are all in mourning. About 9 o'clock on Palm Sunday morning, the Pope is borne in a solemn procession to St. Peter's church, where the ceramonies peculiar to the day are performed. Among the strangers pres ladies alone are favored with seats, but they must be robed in dark dresses, and with black veils on their heads instead of bonnets.

In this country the day is merely commemora ted by religious exercises, and is observed only by the Catholic and Episcopalian churches. Being near the close of Lent, the religious feelings generated in that season are strengthened, and the different churches are well attended by the devout

WE WOULD call the attention of purchasers to the advertisement of Mr. J. N. Robson, Agent for DUPONT'S Powder. He has a large and complete stock, which will always be kept up, and which he will daily dowver to any part of the city. The Messrs. Dupont commenced the manufacture of powder in 1801, and have kept their powder up to the standard, and an experience of thirty years with their former Agents here have always given complete satisfaction. Their establishment is one of the largest in the United States, capable of turning out one thousand kegs daily, with a capital of over two million dollars invested, thus giving a guarantee that purchasers can depend on what they get. TESTIMONIAL. SHEFFIELD SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL. SHEFFIELD SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL,
ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT,
YALE COLLEGE, November 16, 1866.

I have always recommended the Faber Polygrade Lead Pencils as the only pencils fitted for both ornamental and mathematical drawing; but, after a thorough trial of the American Polygrade Lead Pencils, manufactured by the American Lead Pencil Company, New York, I find them superior to any pencil in use, even to the Faber or the old English Cumberland Lead Pencil, being a superior pencil for sketching, ornamental and thechanical drawing, and all the ordinary uses of a lead pencil.

These pencils are very finely graded and have a very smooth lead; even the sofiest pencils hold the point well: These pencils are very linely greated the point well; smooth lead; oven the softest pencils hold the point well; they are all that can be desired in a pencil. It gives me great pleasure to be able to assure Americans that they will no longer be compelled to depend upon Germany or any other foreign market for pencils.
